ITEM XI.

Considered the recommendations of the Dean, Faculty of Arts that the content, tests, syllabi and courses of reading, for M.A. Public Administration and Public Policy (Honours) 1st & 2nd Semester for the academic session 2018-19 (as approved by Public Administration dated 14.6.2018) be approved, as per Appendix Initiating the discussion, Dr. Manoj Kumar said that many College people may have their resentment against this course.

The Vice-Chancellor said that it is to be implemented only in the Department campus.

Principal B.C. Josan said that they should allow the University to start this course if the Colleges are not willing for this, let them not go for it.

Professor Mohammad Khalid said that if the Colleges are willing, they could approach the course.

Professor Rajesh Gill said that this item was placed before the Faculty of Arts meeting held on 5th May, 2018. After the discussion, it was deferred. Then Professor Board of Studies in its meeting discussed this course and she did not know as to how members were present in the meeting. It should have gone back to the Faculty of Arts and not go. She did not understand as to what is the secret behind this course. Why are they in such a hurry to push it through despite the fact that the College teachers, students and faculty have resentment against it and the Faculty of Arts did not approve it. Why should they wait as for the other courses? That is not fair. She would also like to submit her representation.

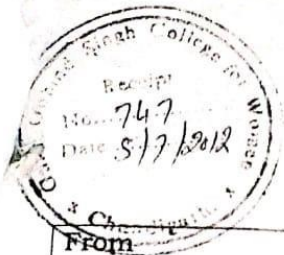

Professor Mohammad Khalid said that this item was discussed in the meeting of Faculty of Arts and it was deferred. Then the Dean formed a Committee which discussed the issue. In the meeting of the Faculty, there was an impression that there are two different courses - one is M.A. Public Administration and the other is M.A. Public Administration and Public Policy. Later on, it was informed that the Department wants to start a new course which is a new experiment with the title M.A. Public Administration and Public Policy. He had told that it could be reviewed after a year or two. There was an objection that this course should not come through the Board of Studies, but later on it had gone through the Board of Studies also. As he had said in the meeting of the Committee and the Faculty of Arts, this course should be allowed. As far as Colleges are concerned, if the Colleges have the faculty, they could also start the Public Administration would continue. If the Colleges have the faculty, they could also start the Public Administration. They should not hamper the introduction of this course in the University. So, it should be allowed.

Professor Pam Rajput said that the item came up for discussion in the Faculty of Arts the discussion was on two points. One was about the course content, and the second was that it did not come through the Board of Studies. Now it has come through the Board of Studies. She got a letter from the Chairperson of the Department of Public Administration that she did not really get enough time to make the presentation in the Arts Faculty and that there were substantial changes since the time the course was submitted and this meeting during which it had been further developed. To the best of her wisdom, she requested the Chairperson to revisit the course and she revised and that objection was removed. She constituted a Committee with the persons who had objected to it in the meeting so that they could get an opportunity to see whether the substantial changes have been incorporated or not and also the Chairpersons of the social sciences departments. The Chairperson presented the course after making the changes and the final outcome was that it should come through the Board of Studies. It is on record that the Dean is always authorized to take care of the left out items.
